

SYMPHONY. Unexpected!

2015/16 Season

THIS IS OUR Fun Side!

"That's not at all what I expected!"

Hang around after any of our concerts, parties or community events, and you will hear that phrase echoed by attendees. This upcoming season offers nearly 40 weeks of The Phoenix Symphony in concert, along with impactful community engagement and unique experiences that are simply...unexpected.

What you can expect from this brochure are descriptions of the exciting concerts and guests artists we've planned for you this year. But what is new this season is a glimpse into the amazing experiences you can enjoy with The Phoenix Symphony, from intimate parties to spectacular celebrations, outreach in hospitals to homeless shelters, and unparalleled events like insightful pre-concert chats, private rehearsals, gripping multi-media concerts, delightful dining and signature cocktails.

On that note, raise your Titotini and turn the page to see our fun side. Cheers to the 2015/2016 Season and Symphony Unexpected!

UNEXPECTED PROGRAMMING

What's the last thing you would expect to see at The Phoenix Symphony? The Beatles? A concert dedicated to Star Wars? If that's the last thing you would expect then you're in for a surprise!

Opening Night! Tito Muñoz conducts: BEETHOVEN'S SYMPHONY NO. 9

The Phoenix Symphony Chorus

Adam Schoenberg: American Symphony

Ludwig van Beethoven: Symphony No. 9 in D minor, op. 125 "Choral"

Maestro Tito Muñoz debuts his second season as The Phoenix Symphony's Virginia G. Piper Music Director with a bold and powerful concert. Join Maestro Muñoz in this grand program as he leads The Phoenix Symphony, The Phoenix Symphony Chorus and talented soloists in Beethoven's final and most celebrated masterpiece, Symphony No. 9, featuring the famous "Ode to Joy." This Opening Night program also features American Symphony by Adam Schoenberg, one of the most celebrated young composers of our time whose music is described by The New York Times as full of "mystery and sensuality."

Daron Hagen: Symphony No. 5 – World premiere

Ottorino Respighi: Fontane di Roma (Fountains of Rome)

Ottorino Respighi: Pini di Roma (Pines of Rome)

Music Director Laureate Michael Christie returns to conduct Ottorino Respighi's symphonic tone poems Fountains of Rome, romancing Rome's famous fountains at different times of the day, and Pines of Rome, depicting pine trees in different locations in Rome. The program also features Verdi's powerful Overture to his opera La forza del destino (The Force of Destiny) and the world premiere of Symphony No. 5 by Daron Hagen, recipient of the 2014 American Academy of Arts and Letters Award, a work commissioned specifically for performance by The Phoenix Symphony Commissioning Club.

Jinjoo Cho, violin

Johannes Brahms: Academic Festival Overture, op. 80

Igor Stravinsky: Concerto in D Major for Violin and Orchestra

Johannes Brahms: Symphony No. 2 in D Major, op. 73

Continuing The Phoenix Symphony's Classics season, Tito Muñoz leads the orchestra in Brahms' Symphony No. 2. After waiting many years to complete his first symphony, Brahms produced his second symphony almost overnight. The lilting Symphony No. 2 is generally regarded as the most genial and relaxed of Brahms' four works in the genre, but its finale is jubilant and electrifying. The program opens with Brahms' ebullient Academic Festival Overture and 26-year-old South Korean violinist Jinjoo Cho, winner of the 2014 International Violin Competition of Indianapolis, plays Stravinsky's neoclassical Violin Concerto.

*Coffee Classics performances feature one hour of music selected from the weekend's program.

UNEXPECTED COMMUNITY

The Phoenix Symphony believes that music can benefit everyone. That's why we put our emphasis on the community. We visit schools, homeless shelters and hospitals throughout the Valley and bring the gift of music.

“With a flourish of his baton,
maestro Tito Muñoz transports
The Phoenix Symphony into the 21st century.”

– Phoenix Magazine

“The Orchestra was altogether
brilliant; a grand fusion of harps, strings, horns and percussion.”

– Broadway World

UNEXPECTED PRAISE

Not only do our patrons love The Symphony, but so does the media.

Wolfgang Amadeus Mozart: Overture to Le nozze di Figaro
(The Marriage of Figaro), K. 492

Wolfgang Amadeus Mozart: Concerto No. 20 in D minor for Piano & Orchestra, K. 466

Wolfgang Amadeus Mozart: Eine kleine Nachtmusik
(A Little Serenade) K. 525

Wolfgang Amadeus Mozart: Symphony No. 39 in E-flat Major, K. 543

Maestro Muñoz presents a rare treat of an all-Mozart program with pieces composed during the prolific and final years of Mozart’s short life. Symphony No. 39, with its warm yet dramatic tone, is sublimely beautiful. Internationally recognized pianist Shai Vosner, a BBC New Generation Artist, will make his Arizona debut performing the enigmatic Piano Concerto No. 20 in a program that also features the delightful and popular Eine kleine Nachtmusik and the whimsical overture to the operatic comedy Le nozze di Figaro (The Marriage of Figaro).

*Coffee Classics performances feature one hour of music selected from the weekend’s program.

The Phoenix Symphony Chorus

Andrew Norman: Unstuck

Francis Poulenc: Gloria

Ludwig van Beethoven: Symphony No. 7
in A Major, op. 92

Tito Muñoz brings a second offering of Beethoven to The Phoenix Symphony’s Classics season with Symphony No. 7, which Beethoven felt was one of his best works. Primarily known for the hypnotic and beautiful second movement that has been featured in many film scores including the Academy Award-Winning The King’s Speech, the symphony is both stirring and inspirational. Continuing to introduce patrons of The Phoenix Symphony to new young composers, Maestro Muñoz opens the program with Andrew Norman’s new kinetic work, Unstuck, which musically documents his ability to overcome writer’s block. Norman, a finalist for the 2012 Pulitzer Prize in Music and composer for famed artists like Emanuel Ax, is recognized as one of the most compelling musical voices of his generation. The program also highlights Poulenc’s lighthearted but spiritual Gloria featuring The Phoenix Symphony Chorus.

*This concert is part of the Scottsdale Series and can be purchased in the Scottsdale Series Subscription or individually.

RAVEL'S Boléro

Symphony Hall

March 4, 2016 | 7:30 pm

March 5, 2016 | 7:30 pm

Concert Repertoire

Andrew Grams, conductor

Pascal Roge, piano

Hector Berlioz: Overture to Le Corsaire, op. 21

Camille Saint-Saëns: Concerto No. 2 in G minor for Piano & Orchestra, op. 22

Maurice Ravel: Ma Mère l'Oye (Mother Goose)

Maurice Ravel: Boléro

One of The Phoenix Symphony's favorite guest conductors, Andrew Grams, returns to lead Maurice Ravel's most famous work, Boléro. The crowd pleasing Boléro delights through the longest-sustained single crescendo of any orchestral work and inspires a visceral and sensual response. Pascal Roge, whose name is synonymous with the best piano performance of the French repertoire in the world today, also joins The Phoenix Symphony playing Saint-Saëns' Concerto No. 2.

HAYDN'S "Nelsonmesse"

Tito Muñoz, conductor

The Phoenix Symphony Chorus

Sean Shepherd: Magiya

Alberto Ginastera: Variaciones concertantes, op. 23

Joseph Haydn: Mass No. 11 in D minor, "Nelsonmesse" (Lord Nelson Mass)

Marice Ravel: Boléro (only in March 18, 2016 11:00 am performance)

Tito Muñoz continues his creative leadership with this diverse program. Arguably Haydn's greatest single composition, "Nelsonmesse," or Missa in Agustiis, is one of six masses Haydn wrote late in his career. Transporting listeners from the greatest depths of despair to great joy, this choral masterpiece is not to be missed.

Featuring another young American composer, the program begins with Magiya by Sean Shepherd, "an exciting composer of the new American generation," according to The New York Times. Magiya, or Magic, co-commissioned by Carnegie Hall and the BBC, is a complex fanfare full of urgency and drive. The program also includes the exciting Variaciones concertantes by Ginastera featuring multiple virtuosic solos.

*Coffee Classics performances feature one hour of music selected from the weekend's program.

Ravel's Boléro will be performed in lieu of "Nelsonmesse" for the Coffee Classics performance.

Missy Mazzoli: River Rouge Transfiguration

Leonard Bernstein: Serenade (After Plato's "Symposium")

Jean Sibelius: Symphony No. 2 in D Major, op. 43

Continuing to weave new American artistic works into the season, Tito Muñoz opens the evening with a composition by Missy Mazzoli, the recipient of four ASCAP Young Composer Awards and a Fulbright Grant, who has been heralded as "one of the more consistently inventive, surprising composers now working in New York" by The New York Times. Mazzoli, who is influenced by minimalism, 19th-century Romanticism, techno and indie rock, has composed a gritty and complex work. The concert then features another New York and American favorite, Leonard Bernstein's unique and inventive violin concerto, Serenade, featuring the Arizona debut of violinist and International Tchaikovsky Competition winner, Jennifer Koh, known for her dazzling virtuosity. The program crests with the "Symphony of Independence," Jean Sibelius' Symphony No. 2.

Thomas Ades: Dances from Powder Her Face

Sergei Rachmaninoff: Concerto No. 2 in C minor for Piano & Orchestra, op. 18

Antonin Dvořák: Symphony No. 8 in G Major, op. 88

This creative program opens with Thomas Ades' Dances from Powder Her Face, music from his opera which musically retells the downfall of Britain's Dirty Duchess, Margaret, Duchess of Argyll. Martina Filjak, winner of the first prize in the Cleveland International Piano Competition and called "a pianist to watch" by The New York Times, makes her Arizona debut with this powerhouse program. Garnering international praise for her poetic passion and magnetic stage presence, Filjak will perform the beautiful and rich Rachmaninoff Piano Concerto No. 2. The program culminates with Dvořák's Symphony No. 8, often called his "Pastoral," a work that stands apart from his other symphonic works and is one that is his most bucolic and idyllic.

Hector Berlioz: Le carnaval romain (Roman Carnival), op. 9

Jean Sibelius: Concerto in D minor for Violin & Orchestra, op. 47

Hector Berlioz: Symphonie fantastique (Fantastic Symphony), op. 14

Berlioz's Symphonie fantastique describes a journey into the composer's lovesick mind and complete obsession with Irish actress Harriet Smithson. Berlioz's famous drama is epic in size, with its large orchestration and his larger-than-life life fantasy world. World-renowned violinist and Valley favorite, Concertmaster Steven Moeckel, takes the stage to perform Sibelius' technically demanding Concerto for Violin on his 1840 Jean-Baptiste Vuillaume instrument.

The Phoenix Symphony kicks off its 2015/16 APS Pops series with a dynamic multi-media experience in tribute to all who have fought for the freedoms we enjoy and those who revere our country's great history as we mark the 150th anniversary of the Civil War, the 75th anniversary of World War I and the 50th anniversary of World War II. Westwater Arts returns to Phoenix from its acclaimed 2012 Centennial performance of the Grand Canyon Suite with powerful symphonic photochoreography using hundreds of archival photographs projected on screens above the orchestra. The first photographic essay, The Eternal Struggle, is a poignant glimpse into what it was like to live and govern during the Civil War set to the words of Abraham Lincoln through the incomparable music of Aaron Copland's Lincoln Portrait. Next, The Symphony performs No Man's Land, commemorating World War I and the collision between centuries-old traditions and the emergence of modern warfare with the music of Shostakovich's Symphony No. 5. Then, through Citizen Soldier, The Phoenix Symphony reflects on the more than 100 million men and women who participated in history's most widespread conflict, World War II, set to Barber's Second Essay for Orchestra. Finishing out the program are inspirational and patriotic tributes in support of our men and women in uniform.

Concert and Street Festival

presented by Barrett-Jackson Auction Company

Symphony Hall

October 24, 2015

After the successful 2014 debut of The Sound of Speed, Barrett-Jackson Auction Company and The Phoenix Symphony team up once again to bring this world-class concert and event back to downtown Phoenix. The evening kicks off with the Barrett-Jackson Pit Road Street Festival featuring over 30 cars from some of the world's greatest car collections all with food trucks, bars and live entertainment. The party then moves inside for The Sound of Speed Concert, a one-of-a-kind concert dedicated to cars, racing and music.

All ticket holders to the Sound of Speed Concert and the Sound of Speed VIP/ sponsor event will have complimentary access to the Street Festival.

Sponsorships begin at $5,000.

VIP tickets start at $500.

Savor the Symphony

WOMEN'S LUNCHEON

Symphony Hall

January 15, 2016 | 11:00 am

Join us for the 4th Annual Savor the Symphony Women's Luncheon, featuring a unique opportunity to see the vocal phenoms, Human Nature. Bigger than the Beatles in Australia, Smokey Robinson discovered this amazing group of Motown singers and brought them to America where they quickly gained fame as openers for chart toppers like Celine Dion and Michael Jackson. Currently playing to sold out houses at the famed Venetian Hotel on the Las Vegas Strip, Human Nature brings their amazing vocal harmonies to Phoenix for the first time. Eavesdrop on an exclusive Human Nature rehearsal with The Phoenix Symphony as these four talented performers sing their own multi-platinum hits and the best of Motown. Then dine at a luncheon prepared by Chef Beau MacMillan, the famed Executive Chef of Phoenix's Sanctuary on Camelback Mountain. Hear Human Nature and MacMillan discuss their experiences and journey with music and food. All proceeds from this one-of-a-kind luncheon benefit The Phoenix Symphony's Education and Community Engagement initiatives.

Sponsorships begin at $2,500.

Individual tickets start at $200.

parties of note

The popular Parties of Note series continues, with an array of intimate Symphony performances at the Valley's most magnificent private homes. The 2015/16 Parties of Note event series will be even more spectacular, featuring spaces with world class art collections, stunning views, and beautiful gardens. Each party features an exclusive performance by Phoenix Symphony musicians.

The 2015/16 Parties of Note event dates will be announced on The Phoenix Symphony website in the fall.

Individual tickets are $175.

YUJA WANG

May 5, 2016

Recognized as one of the most important pianists of her generation, Yuja Wang performs in an intimate salon setting at a private home. This spectacular, one-of-a-kind evening, designed for The Phoenix Symphony by Ms. Wang, will capture her depth of musical insight, her fresh interpretation and charismatic presence. Seating is limited for this special and unique performance, followed by a dinner and conversation with Ms. Wang. All proceeds for this event will benefit The Symphony's Education and Community Outreach programs.
